Asbestos and Lead Abatement

Are the inhabitants of your building safe from the harmful affects of asbestos and lead? These hazardous materials could be lurking where you least expect. That's why you need the help of trained abatement professionals you can trust.

Established in 1982, Mavo Systems is Minnesota's oldest asbestos abatement firm and one of its largest. What makes the company a leader in the industry is quality workmanship, well-trained technicians and unmatched customer service. As fully licensed specialists in asbestos removal, encapsulation and repair, you can trust Mavo Systems to get the job done right the first time.

For over 25 years, Mavo Systems has been cleaning all types of sites, from missile silos and federal buildings to shopping malls, hospitals and schools. No project, big or small, is beyond our capabilities or our commitment to providing a fully trained and professional crew. All Mavo Systems' abatement technicians receive thorough training that covers federal, state and local regulations, medical surveillance and all the basics for doing a safe and quality job. In addition, all environmental management staff and supervisors at Mavo Systems receive formal training in an EPA-approved asbestos abatement contractor and supervisor training course. To top it off, safety meetings are a daily routine on every project.

"I have contracted with Mavo Systems since 1990 and have found your company to be one of the best that I have worked with."
